Reasons for Issuing Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2

The AUASB issues Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2 Amendments to Australian Auditing Standards made under Section 336 of the Corporations Act 2001 pursuant to the requirements of the legislative provisions and the Strategic Direction explained below.

The AUASB is a non corporate Commonwealth entity of the Australian Government established under section 227A of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001, as amended (ASIC Act). Under section 336 of the Corporations Act 2001, the AUASB may make Auditing Standards for the purposes of the corporations legislation. These Auditing Standards are legislative instruments under the Legislation Act 2003.

Under the Strategic Direction given to the AUASB by the Financial Reporting Council (FRC), the AUASB is required, inter alia, to develop auditing standards that have a clear public interest focus and are of the highest quality.

Purpose of Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2

Under the Strategic Direction given to the AUASB by the FRC, the AUASB is required to have regard to any programme initiated by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board (IAASB) for the revision and enhancement of the International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) and to make appropriate consequential amendments to the Australian Auditing Standards.

The IAASB has made limited amendments to several International Standards to address changes made to the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code), which became effective from 15 June 2019.

The Accounting Professional & Ethical Standards Board Limited (APESB) has issued a revised APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (APESB Code) to incorporate the changes to the IESBA Code, with adaptations and additional requirements to suit the Australian environment. The revised APESB Code has been restructured and changes made to some fundamental terms and concepts in order to clarify application of the conceptual framework. The revised APESB Code became effective from 1 January 2020. The APESB Code is available, free of charge, on the APESB's website: www.apesb.org.au.

During December 2019, the AUASB reissued ASA 102 Compliance with Ethical Requirements when performing Audits, Reviews and Other Assurance Engagements, to give legal effect to the revised APESB Code. ASA 102 is an Auditing Standard made under the Corporations Act 2001 for Australian legislative purposes. Under ASA 102 the auditor, assurance practitioner, engagement quality control reviewer, and firm are to have regard to the applicable requirements of the APESB Code, which are to be considered in determining whether relevant ethical requirements have been met. ASA 102 enables references to relevant ethical requirements in other AUASB Standards to remain current as they are explicitly linked to ASA 102. The AUASB amends or re-makes ASA 102 whenever the APESB Code is reissued or revised, to ensure that such cross references remain current and to eliminate the need to amend other AUASB Standards. The reissued ASA 102 is operative for engagements with financial reporting periods ending on or after 31 December 2019.

The purpose of Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2 is to make consequential and conforming amendments to Australian Auditing Standards made under Section 336 of the Corporations Act 2001 to:

- (a) reflect changes made to equivalent IAASB standards to address inconsistencies between the IAASB standards and the revised IESBA Code; and
- (b) update references to the revised APESB Code, reissued in November 2018 and effective from 1 January 2020.

Operative Date

Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2 Amendments to Australian Auditing Standards made under Section 336 of the Corporations Act 2001 is operative for engagements with financial reporting periods ending on or after 15 July 2020.

Process of making Australian Auditing Standards

The AUASB's Strategic Direction, inter alia, provides that the AUASB develop Australian Auditing Standards that:

- have a clear public interest focus and are of the highest quality;
- use the ISAs of the IAASB as the underlying standards;
- conform with the Australian regulatory environment; and
- are capable of enforcement.

Consultation Process prior to issuing the Auditing Standard

It is the view of the AUASB that the changes to Australian Auditing Standards do not require public exposure as they are relatively minor or editorial in nature or are changes only to reflect existing obligations under ASA 102 and the APESB Code which became effective on 1 January 2020.

Regulatory Impact Statement

A Preliminary Assessment form was prepared in connection with the making of ASA 102 in December 2019 and lodged with the Office of Best Practice Regulation (OBPR). This Preliminary Assessment form addresses the updated requirements of the APESB Code for Auditors. No additional requirements have been created as a consequence of the AUASB issuing Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2 Amendments to Australian Auditing Standards made under Section 336 of the Corporations Act 2001.

The OBPR has advised the AUASB Technical Group that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) was not required in relation to ASA 102.

Drafting of Amending Standard

Auditing Standard ASA 2020-2 uses underlining, striking out and other typographical material to identify the amendments to Auditing Standards, in order to make the amendments more understandable. However, the amendments made by this amending instrument do not include that underlining, striking out or other typographical material. Compiled standards include only the clean text.
